

Five Wishes Advance Directive

You should be hearing about Advance Directives from your healthcare providers, such as the hospital or your primary care physician. You may have been asked what your wishes are regarding life sustaining treatment while you were an inpatient in the acute hospital. You may have made some decisions at that time, but never put them in writing.

The “Five Wishes” Advance Directive is an easy to complete form that lets you put your wishes in writing. The decision to complete an Advance Directive allows you the comfort of knowing that your wishes will be respected.
